EnHanced is a freeware puzzle game. Players must solve the puzzles by moving and rotating blocks within EnHanced's main game screen. Each puzzle is randomly generated with 2 or 3 different layouts: each layout contains walls and barriers which must be removed to access the blocks needed to complete the puzzle. Players can only access a limited number of blocks depending on how the layout is structured and thus they must determine how to solve the puzzle. Towards the end of the game, players need to solve the final boss puzzle to unlock the game's secret ending, which will be revealed depending on how well players have completed all the puzzles. The music in EnHanced is a part of the game, with different sound effects including the bizarre sound that happens when a block is animated. Although the music isn't as advanced as some other games with music and sound effects, we were able to put a lot of effort into recording an enjoyable soundtrack for the game. The game was even featured as a 'runner-up' title in the 'Soundtrack of the Year 2012' category at the 13th International Festival of Minimal & Ambient Music in Argentina. The game features over 40 minutes of (bonus) music, 24 tracks in total and an enjoyable soundtrack to listen to while playing the game. If you enjoyed playing the game EnHanced you'll be pleased to know that there's over a 60-minute soundtrack released. Story EnHanced is a game about freeing oneself from time... Originally an early version of the game was released with the title EnHanced. However, as the game progressed I made the decision to change the name of the game to EnHanced. The game tells the tale of a self-aware being who has escaped from the time dimension, intent on helping other beings avoid the same fate. Playable Background EnHanced's project started as a set of puzzles I created on a napkin at a local restaurant. I was playing all the minigames that surrounded me on the table, at the time that I was sitting in the restaurant. The game started with the first scene where I started trying to solve one of the puzzles, and ended with the next scene where I was finally able to complete it. Each puzzle is a riddle, a challenge to see through time and space. By reading the "napkin", you will find an entertaining story, that

ISLAMABAD - Pakistan on Saturday criticized Westbound Railways (WBR) for flogging on two Pakistan Railways (PR) trains on the Lahore-Faisalbad route, saying the railways' joint action plan did not permit such practices. "The railways did not carry out its own investigation process [in the WBR] and used the excuse of it being a local problem," Mohammad Shahid, a member of the Upper House of the Pakistani Parliament, said on Saturday. "It's not an excuse because the education department and the media's information is that it is not a local issue," he said while speaking at a press conference in Islamabad. Read: No Track Found: Blackmoney Hoarders Unearth 'Swiss Cheese' of Public Investment Funds The Black Money Raids, along with the Auditor General, had investigated and come to the conclusion that 90 percent of the PR's assets were being vested in private industries which were doing nothing for the country and were facing no accountability. "The information about the train is being circulated in social media, but the railways in press have not revealed the fact and asked why," warned Shahid. Pakistani legislators also asked the government to interfere in the issue so that no such incident occurred in the future. He stated that the railways are totally responsible for the engine condition of the train and the moving of raw materials. However, the Democrats of Pakistan (D-P) said it was not appropriate for any government institution to attack a train agency, WBR, adding that parliament has the authority to review the railways and not the other way around.

Android app development can be tricky sometimes. Not all developers have a technical expertise and expertise in the Android ecosystem. If you are one of those developers who might be looking for a guide to Android app development, then this is the post for you. What is Android app development? The Android operating system powers over 85% of smartphones sold worldwide, which means it is the backbone of the global app market. Today, Android apps are used by almost 4.4 billion people around the world, and the number grows by more than one billion every year. If you are a developer and you are looking to enter into the $170-billion Android market, then Android app development is the answer to your needs. Android is the mainstay in the world of app development Because Android is such a dominant player in the smartphone market, you can expect the Android ecosystem to be the future of app development. Because Android is so well-known, if you come with an app idea for Android, you are guaranteed to create a market where many people will want to download your app. It is not that Android is that much harder than iOS While it is true that developing for iOS is a little bit easier because Apple is more open with app developers, Android is not that much harder to develop and deploy app for. Because Android allows developers to be more aggressive, more experimental, and more resourceful, Android has become one of the most competitive app development platforms in the market. Is Android app development worth it? If you are the

! December 05, 2012 Breaking news from CERN, the European organisation we support, the World Energy Department and the European Union. This is what we know, and what can be inferred from this: 1 - The 21 nucleon fuel has exploded 2 - The fuel split into two parts, dubbed neon and garlic, but mostly neon 3 - Both of the neon halves are racing towards the earth 4 -Both of the neon halves containing lots of anti-electromagnetic pulse 5 - The garlic is held together by magnetic force 6 - The garlic is approaching the earth, but only about 2000 kilometres from the earth at the same rate as the explosion 7 - There is a slight degree of spin to the garlic 8 - The garlic is now starting to accelerate slightly as it approaches the earth 9 - Most of the larva hatches will have used up their energy to escape and settle in the earth's atmosphere 10 - The larva will hatch into Medusa 11 - The booms within the Pacific Islands will get larger as the neon approaches the earth 12 - We're still waiting for news on the re-entry vehicle aboard the boomer (our ocean rocket) 13 - Some say that the re-entry vehicle failed to release any anti-electromagnetic pulse from it's onboard X-ray laser 14 - The reason the neon is heading for the earth is a question of physics, the neon is taking up the created wormholes as it goes along, that's why it's not speeding up 15 - The reason it's slowing down is that the wormholes are being filled up with matter, therefore the anti-electromagnetic pulse is being slowed in the black holes created by the neutron matter 16 - The reason the boomer failed to successfully carry the Medusa is unknown 17 - There is an idea of a detour 18 - There is another idea of a detour, but only for the outer batch of the neon 19 - The idea of the detour is that the two halves of the neon will be sucked into two
